It must be extremely rare to come across a team such as the Georgia Fire Basketball team, one that exhibits daily, its relativity to the Holiday Season. A team, grounded in the values of family, giving to each other their best, and encouragement to a brighter tomorrow, Georgia Fire and Lady Fire highlight the December Issue of the High Expectations Foundation Newsletter.

This Special Holiday Issue of the High Expectations Newsletter is dedicated to MR. LARRIE LOVETT and to the memory of MR. JAMES JONES; both are Grandfathers of a current Georgia Fire Basketball Player. These men's involvement in the lives of their grandchildren and their love of basketball is a driving factor for 2 of Georgia Fire Basketball's players and our Parent Spotlight this issue, Miss Sheila Lovett.

As displayed above, this December, the High Expectations Foundation's focus is on two Alumni Players of Georgia Fire Basketball. We have interviews with former Georgia Fire Basketball Players Nate Lee Adams, found here as a current College Student at Paine College in Augusta, Georgia and Cameron Clayton, graduate of Georgia Southwestern State University.
